

Authorized betting list

A) Basic Rules concerning the list:

- When the qualifications for an event are not mentioned in the list, then betting on the qualifications is not allowed.
- Name of the competitions is only mentioned when it differs from the name of the level of the competition.
- Regarding events that involve a women's competition as well as a men's competition, betting on the women's competition is only allowed when it is mentioned (under the name of the events or the particularities).
- Betting is allowed pre-Match and Live (granted the operator holds a decision allowing it to offer live sports betting).<sup>1</sup>
- For national championships in the list that involve a relegation group structure, bets are still allowed on the relegation group encounters.
- On opposite, bets are not allowed on promotion group play that only involves teams from a division that is not mentioned in the list.
- For national championships, Promotion/Relegation encounters where teams from a division mentioned in the list play against the best teams from the division directly inferior to it are allowed.
- In Football, the "Super Cup" is defined, depending on the structure in the country, as either the game in which the winner of the league the past season plays against the winner of the national cup of the past season (European model) or the game in which the winner of the first part of the season plays against the winner of the second part of the season (South American model). As a general principle, the football "Super Cup" is always allowed for any country in which the first division of football is allowed.
- Bets on encounters in a friendly tournament of football that is not named in this document are allowed if they respect the restrictions stated under football / friendly games / club or under football / friendly games / nation in the list.
- Regarding events where the participants are timed (ex: alpine downhill skiing, mechanical sports, etc.); bets on training runs are never allowed unless explicitly integrated in the list
- Bets on rankings are never allowed except :
  - a) If the ranking itself grants entry to an international Cup (ex : UEFA Europa League in football)
  - b) If the ranking itself grants entry to an international competition mentioned in the list; ex : rankings (depending on which continent a team represents) in the 2019 Basketball World Cup will be decisive for 7 (out of 12) qualificative spots for the 2020 Olympic Tournament.
  - c) If the bets are on the 3 first ranks of a competition (podium rule).

<sup>1</sup> Except for bets that by nature cannot be exploited pre match (e.g: who wins the rest of the match?)

B) Authorised betting markets

All the different type of bets (or markets) that are authorized are listed in the following sections.

“Main Markets” (see 1.) are the main type of bets which can be proposed on any sports (as long as it makes sense in a sport. E.g: totals would be difficult to apply to figure skating). "Side Markets" (see 2. to 15.) are secondary types of bets, specific to each sport.
